Strategies for Handling Challenging Questions

Responding to students and staff as you implement a substance abuse prevention program

Wednesday, January 11th at 2 p.m. ET

Looking for tips on how to handle challenging questions when teaching a prevention program?

"Which is worse...drinking alcohol or smoking marijuana?" or "Have you ever been drunk?" Curiosity may be common while teaching a substance abuse prevention program. In this webinar, you will learn strategies for responding to these and other challenging questions, as well as tips for classroom management, creating staff buy-in, and learning where to go for more resources.

Who should attend?

Teachers, program specialists, coordinators, educators, directors of after-school personnel, therapists, counselors, behavioral specialists, and anyone currently implementing or interested in implementing a prevention program.

What is the registration fee?

The cost for this webinar is $99. See the Registration Form below.
